

Announcement for 2015 John C. Crowell thesis/dissertation awards:

John C. Crowell Graduate Award

PS-SEPM is now accepting nominations for the John C. Crowell graduate thesis award. This award is for the best M.S. thesis and Ph.D. dissertation in sedimentology/stratigraphy. The award consists of $500, and award plaque, a PS-SEPM t-shirt, and a 1-year membership in PS-SEPM.

Nomination procedure:

Students are nominated for the Crowell award by a faculty advisor, the department chair of their home department, the PS-SEPM awards committee, or SEPM faculty representative familiar with the students' work. Nomination forms are attached and must be filled out completely. Nominations must be submitted to PS-SEPM awards manager Dan Sturmer (sturmer.dan@gmail.com) no later than Friday, May 15th, 2015. An abstract of the thesis also must be included with the nomination form. Following evaluation by the awards committee, students with the top three thesis abstracts will be asked to submit their entire thesis for review. Awards will be announced in fall 2015 and formally recognized at the 2016 PS-SEPM meeting.

Nomination form for the John C. Crowell Graduate Award

Name of student: _____

Student e-mail: _____

Degree: M.S. _____ Ph.D. _____

Name of nominator/advisor: _____

Nominator/advisor e-mail: _____

Nominator/advisor phone number: _____

University: _____

Thesis/Dissertation
title: _____

Student graduation date: _____

Justification for nomination/significance of work:

Signature of nominator/advisor: _____

Date: _____

Please include an abstract of the thesis with this nomination form

This form should be returned to sturmer.dan@gmail.com no later than May 15th, 2015